So the amendment was rejected.

Mr. Baldwin offered the following amendment:

Substitute the following for Sections 2 and 3,

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any person, and the duty of the constables in the several districts to take up and impound any horse, mule, horned cattle, goats or swine which may be found going at large within said described limits, and such person may, or constable shall convey such stock to the pound nearest the place when found running at large.

SEC 3. And be it enacted, That the County Commissioners of Baltimore county upon application made to them shall appoint as many pound-keepers for each of the several districts or parts of districts embraced within the provisions of this law, as may be necessary; provided, however, that such pound-keepers shall receive no compensation from the County Commissioners, but shall be paid for their services out of the fines hereinafter provided for; and provided further, that the pounds which may be established in accordance with the provisions of this law, shall be at least one mile and a half distant from each other. The pound-keepers so appointed shall provide a suitable place for keeping the stock which may be brought to them to be impounded, and shall properly feed and care for the same while in their custody. Immediately upon any stock being brought to any pound, the pound-keeper shall post or cause to be posted in three prominent places in the neighborhood notices of the impounding of such stock, with a description of the same. The owner or owners of any such stock may release the same by the payment of the reasonable and customary expenses incurred in the support and care of such stock while so impounded, and by the payment of a fine of one dollar for each head of stock so released.,
